FOREX

Forex, also known as foreign exchange, FX or currency trading, is a decentralized global market where all the world's currencies trade. The Forex market is the largest, most liquid market in the world with an average daily trading volume exceeding $5 trillion. All the world's combined stock markets don't even come close to this.

Forex markets are located all over the world, the largest centers are in London (UK), New York (USA), Tokyo (Japan), Hong Kong, Singapore and Frankfurt (Germany).

TRADING INSTRUMENTS

Currencies

Currencies allow you to make money on almost all the events in the world. Currency quotes change every minute, 24 hours a day, 5 days a week. Each fluctuation is — a potential profit. Instead of just changing currencies, trade them! Join and benefit from currencies such as the Euro, Pound or Dollar.

Oil and Gas

Different benchmarks of oil, natural gas and heating oil. Trading instruments with a high volatility and a good potential for making money on investing both in the short term and the long term. Trading commodities like Oil, Gold and Silver that are constantly in the news is always a good place to start.

Metals

Gold and silver are traditional investor assets which help to stabilize trading portfolio. Metals have a higher earning potential than many currency pairs. Trading commodities like Oil, Gold and Silver that are constantly in the news is always a good place to start.

Stocks

Invest into real business! Shares allow you to make money on long-term investments into securities of the world's largest companies (for example, Apple, Google, Tesla etc.), as well as make income on short-term trend changes of these shares prices. Enjoy leveraged trading on world famous shares in a user-friendly, professional trading environment
